

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention discloses a long-lasting scented paint mixture and method for creating the scented paint, whereby a scenting agent is introduced and mixed into a standard paint composition whereby the resultant mixture will produce an odor or scent that will last after the paint has been applied and has been allowed to fully cure.